

Presenting the Past (Archaeologists Toolkit)

Using the right media, archeologists can and must educate and excite the people who need their information. Larry Zimmermans earnestly engaging guide to reporting archaeological findings argues that communication is one of archaeologys primary tasks. He offers advice on working with colleagues, identifying audiences, and creating dynamic, jargon-free prose. He offers easy pointers for developing and writing effective CRM reports, conference papers, and articles in general-interest magazines. Students will benefit from Zimmermans frank advice about citations and style, as well as his discussion of diverse audiences. Practicing archeologists will learn much from the discussion of electronic media and new ways to reach non-academic audiences.
